Object pronouns

Direct and indirect object pronouns!

Direct objects

- Direct objects answer this question.... What?
- They receive the action of the verb.
- They can be living and non living things.

- "I gave a gift".
- What did you give? ...a gift! That's your direct object!

Indirect objects

- Indirect objects answer the questions.. to whom or for whom?
- Indirect objects can only be living things!
- "I gave a gift to my sister."
- To whom did you give the gift? To my sister...or "to her". That's your indirect object!

Direct object pronouns....

- There are 4 direct object pronouns...
- LO, LA, LOS, LAS
- LO-singular/masculine, LA-singular/feminine, LOS-plural/masculine, LAS-plural/feminine
- La casa- singular and feminine..would be replaced with LA.
- El pan-singular and masculine..would be replaced with LO.
- Los hermanos-masculine and plural..would be replaced with LOS.
- Las pastillas-feminine and plural..would be replaced with LAS.

Indirect object pronouns

- There are 6 indirect object pronouns..
- Me, te, le, nos, os, les
- Remember these answer to whom or for whom...
- For example... "yo doy el regalo a mi hermana".
- To whom are you giving the gift? A MI HERMANA...the indirect object pronoun would be ...LE (to her).

Tricks of the trade

- There are 2 major rules when using object pronouns.....
- 1) When you rearrange your sentence with object pronouns it must beINDIRECT+DIRECT+VERB
- Yo traigo el regalo a ti.

- YO TE LO TRAIGO.
- Te is your indirect ...lo is your direct..traigo your verb 😊

Rule #2 is

- When you have le/les in front of your direct object pronoun (lo, la, los, las) that LE/LES becomes....SE.
- Yo doy el regalo a mi hermana.
- YO SE LO DOY.

REVIEW...

- LO, LA, LOS, LAS ARE YOUR DIRECT OBJECT PRONOUNS.
- ME, TE, LE, NOS, OS, LES ARE YOUR INDIRECT OBJECT PRONOUNS.
- INDIRECT+DIRECT+VERB IS THE ORDER YOU REARRANGE THEM IN.
- LE/LES BECOMES SE IN FRONT OF YOUR DIRECT OBJECT PRONOUN.
